

AVL/SOLVET HONORED AS MANUFACTURER OF THE YEAR AT THE 2023 PATTERSON ANIMAL HEALTH NATIONAL SALES MEETING

Calgary, July 7th 2023

We are delighted to announce that AVL/SOLVET has been recognized as Manufacturer of the Year for the Production Animal Division at Patterson Animal Health's 2023 National Sales Meeting, in Dallas. This prestigious award underscores our unwavering commitment to excellence, our strong partnerships, our innovative product portfolio and our remarkable growth potential.

The Patterson Animal Health's National Sales Meeting brought together over 700 attendees, including sales representatives, sales managers and senior executives from across the U.S. and Canada. Guided by the theme "ONE THING", aiming to foster collaboration and identify key strategies that would allow us to provide better support to our customers, and improve value.

Being chosen as Manufacturer of the Year is a testament to the outstanding dedication shown by every member of our organization. This achievement is of considerable significance to us, coming from Patterson Animal Health International, the world's largest distributor of animal health products.

This award reflects the efforts of our team and the success of our strong partnerships. Offering exciting and innovative new products, we see immense growth potential in the animal health market, and we continue our quest to advancing animal health and well-being.
